Cape May – Lewes Ferry Updates COVID – 19 Travel Impacts Foot Passenger Ban Lifted; Vessel Salon Re-opens

CAPE MAY, N.J. – Beginning Monday, February 22, 2021, the Cape May – Lewes Ferry will once again permit both bicyclists and foot passengers – with capacity restrictions – aboard the Delaware Bay ferry service. All bicyclists and foot passengers MUST have a reservation, are REQUIRED to check-in with the ticket counter prior to boarding, and MUST arrive a minimum of 45 minutes prior to departure. The passenger salon aboard the vessels will also be open; however, inside seating capacity is currently limited to approximately 20%.

Passengers must wear a face mask and stay socially distanced from anyone not in their traveling party. Passengers are urged to pay attention to the directional signage on board the vessel to help control the flow of traffic. Masks are required in the terminals, on board the vessels and in outdoor areas while on terminal grounds.

Exterior seating is open to all passengers. With appropriate social distancing, passengers will now have access to seating inside the vessel's passenger salon and the food court is open. The Ferry's departure schedule includes four (4) daily departures below from both Cape May, NJ and Lewes, DE.
